

BLW 2018: Beginning Wanderings

All Schubert

Friday, Oct 19

7:00 PM

Die schöne Müllerin, D. 795

Ryan de Ryke, baritone
Daniel Schlosberg, piano

Saturday, Oct 20

[no events in the daytime due to the Baltimore Marathon]

5:00 PM

The City of Baltimore Schubertiade

The public at large is encouraged to bring in a Schubert song (or violin, viola or cello sonata mvmt). Director Daniel Schlosberg and one of the Mid-Atlantic's leading lights in art song, pianist Eva Mengelkoch, will be "on duty" while guests come in at their leisure. Amateurs, beginners, and spectators welcome. Come one, come all: this will be a Schubert party filled with song, wine and conviviality.

Sunday, Oct 21

10:30 AM

Der Wanderer: The Baltimore Lieder Weekend 5K Walk

We will retroactively upstage the Baltimore Marathon folks!

An urban amble and art song geek-out through some of Baltimore's most charming bits.

Note: the meeting place for this event will be Ceremony Coffee Roasters in Mt Vernon (520 Park Ave)

Participants are welcome to purchase espresso and a pastry and "chill" starting at 10:00, and the group will set out by foot at 10:30.

1:00 PM

Lecture on Winterreise by John Gingerich, author of "Schubert's Beethoven Project" (Cambridge UP)

3:00 PM

Winterreise, D. 911
